Editorial & Collaboration

Independent hotel reviews instead of glossy PR

How we work

We review hotels from the perspective of real guests. We only rate areas and services we actually used during the stay. Official star classifications and our own score are kept clearly separate.

Collaborations and invitations are disclosed transparently. They do not change our rating criteria or our editorial judgment.

Collaboration

We are open to editorially relevant hotel stays, research collaborations, press trips and professional exchange with tourism organizations and media. A collaboration is never a promise of a positive review.
